

Summer Reading-Incoming Seniors

This year your Summer Reading involves your future college essay/personal statement. This past year has been unprecedented and very difficult; therefore, you will have many opportunities to work on this during the first month of school with your teacher. However, it is never too early to start!

Below are some links where you can look at accepted essays, essay guidelines, the Common Application and actual applications for your school. You can even start your own essay to get a head start on your Senior year!!
